ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

I. INTRODUCTION

This Chapter is not intended to address all issues related to the management of Economic Development projects, but rather to interface with the other chapters of this manual. Each chapter in the Grants Management Manual, with the exception of Chapters 16, and 17, should be reviewed for its applicability to your grant. It is imperative that any grantee funded for economic development from grant funds or using program income to fund an economic development activity become familiar with this manual in its entirety. This Chapter highlights management-related issues of additional importance to Economic Development projects. It should be noted that changes have been made to the format for documenting the low-to-moderate income national objective, and documents in this chapter supercede previous Grants Management Manuals and Training Manuals.

II. GRANTEE RESPONSIBILITIES.

This section covers the following topic areas related to your ED grant:

- A. Defining roles
- B. Clearing Special Conditions
- C. Beneficiary Tracking (Meeting National Objective and Public Benefit requirements)
- D. Executing Agreements
- E. Financial information and documentation
- F. Monitoring and Close-out

A. Defining Roles.

Scheduling a meeting to define roles and assign responsibilities to all program participants is an important first task for fulfilling special conditions. We recommend that shortly after your contract takes effect you schedule a meeting with your ED representative, the local staff person or consultant who will be handling the day-to-day administration of the grant and/or implementation of the business assistance or microenterprise assistance program, your Executive Officer who will be receiving and reviewing the State's monitoring and auditing reports, the financial officer who will prepare periodic or semi-annual financial reports, the job training agency representative who will be responsible for recruitment, job training and income verification of job applicants and employees, the labor standards coordinator who will be reviewing payrolls for Federal prevailing wage compliance and, if appropriate, your engineer who will oversee the construction of off-site publicly owned infrastructure improvements. The ED representative will review the overlay and reporting requirements and assist you with developing a timeline for satisfying the special conditions listed in your contract.

B. Clearing Special Conditions

The grantee must clear the Special Conditions listed in Attachment D of the Standard Agreement prior to incurring any project or program-related costs. General Administration funds may be used to clear the conditions. Of particular importance to ED grants is clearance of NEPA, which must be done prior to delivery of services, or any site work or business loan activity. Each Enterprise Fund loan request must complete the environmental review process prior to implementing the activity and must be approved for drawdown by the Department, via the Enterprise Fund Drawdown Approval Checklist. (See Supporting Materials). Formal noticing for projects requiring public comment and comment by oversight agencies is required on larger, more involved construction or expansion projects, and therefore the timing of special conditions clearances is basic to successful performance. Signed contracts and agreements insure that all parties are apprised of their responsibilities and will contribute to the smooth operation of the grant. As Special Conditions are cleared your area representative will memorialize that clearance in writing for your files. At monitoring, your files should demonstrate that no costs were incurred prior to clearance of the conditions associated with those costs.

C. Verifying National Objective and Public Benefit Requirements

Each activity must meet one of the CDBG program's national objectives, which are 570.483(b) Activities benefiting low and moderate income persons, 570.483(c) Activities which aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight, and 570.483(d) Activities designed to meet community development needs having a particular urgency. Generally, CDBG economic development projects meet the national objective of principally benefiting members of the Targeted Income Group (also known as the TIG) by filling at least 51% of the jobs created or retained by the CDBG assistance with TIG individuals or by providing business assistance to existing or potential micro-entrepreneurs who are considered limited clientele by virtue of both their income. Therefore, income verification is an on-going grantee responsibility of major importance and the mechanism for verification must have State approval.

The primary intent of the ED allocation is to provide public benefit by creating or retaining permanent private sector jobs, at no more than $35,000 per job. A single job counts as a permanent, full-time job if it provides at least 1,750 hours of employment during the year. Permanent part-time jobs can be aggregated into full-time equivalent jobs if the part-time job provides at least 875 hours of employment per year. These permanent part-time jobs can be aggregated into 1,750 hour full-time equivalent jobs (FTEs). A fraction of a job, (e.g., .5 of a FTE job) does not count towards meeting the public benefit requirement which specifies that not more than $35,000 of CDBG funds can be used for each FTE job created as a result of the CDBG assistance.

Jobs held by family members with an ownership interest in the business will not typically count towards the job goal. Self-proprietorships and owners/principals of companies are not typically counted either. However, where CDBG funds assist a qualified micro-enterprise (i.e., five or fewer employees, one of whom is the owner of the business), the owner's job will be counted toward the job creation goal.

It should be noted, Public Benefit is not a requirement of a Microenterprise Assistance Activity, as opposed to a Business Assistance Activity. Microenterprise Assistance Activity funds are targeted by regulation to a population of business owners and would-be owners who are low and moderate income. A Microenterprise Assistance Program may serve a wider audience provided those participants who are not income eligible either pay a fee to participate or meet the eligibility requirement of job creation/retention by commiting jobs primarily for low to moderate income individuals within the term of the grant program.

Seasonal jobs (e.g., jobs at a vegetable packing plant) may be considered to be permanent jobs only if the duration of the season is long enough for the job to be considered as the person's principal occupation. The job should last more than six months and represent the person's principal source of work-related income.

D. Targeted Income Group Tracking for Economic Development Activities

Unless you are addressing the national objectives of slums and blight or urgency*, you must maintain records that verify the number of targeted income group families benefiting from the jobs created or retained by the CDBG-assisted project. Keep records that demonstrate one of the following:

JOB CREATION PROJECTS: If the project is meeting low-mod benefit through job creation, at least 51% of the 100% screened population must demonstrate TIG eligibility, either through Census Presumption records, records kept by the screening and referral agency or as demonstrated by signed self-certifications. (In the event self-certifications are used, the grantee must require backup income documentation for at least 30%) The three methods are as follows:

- 1. Presumption of Benefit: The person filling the job is residing in or employed by a business located in an area presumed to have primarily low-income households. (This test does not apply to participants for microenterprise assistance programs.) Initially, benefit to the TIG is identified by prescreening the income of the persons to be hired for the TIG jobs. However, a person may be presumed to be TIG. The Presumption Test is satisfied in one of the following ways:
- the person filling the job resides within a census tract (or block numbering area) that has at least 70 percent of its residents who are members of the TIG; or

• the employee resides in, or the business being assisted is located within a such a census tract as defined below;

^{*}Slums and blight eradication and Urgency do carry the public benefit requirement

- a. the person or business is within a census tract that is part of a federally-designated Empowerment Zone or Enterprise Community, or
- b. the census tract meets the following criteria: a) a poverty rate of at least 20 percent as determined by the most recent decennial census information and, the census tract evidences pervasive poverty and general distress (i.e. the specific activity is located in a block group with a poverty rate of at least 20 percent) or the applicant has written approval from HUD of other HUD approved measures of distress.

Documentation must be available in your files for State inspection during any monitoring visit and for four years after your grant contract expiration. Please note: While the "presumptions" CANNOT be used to qualify participants under a Microenterprise Program where a 100% benefit to low-mod income test is applied. It can be used to qualify job creation activities under a Microenterprise Program where the 51% benefit test is applied.

- Referral Agencies: The person filling the job or receiving was referred from an agency that utilized the HUD income limits in determining that person's TIG eligibility Or the person has been qualified under a government assistance program with income eligibility requirements not to exceed HUD income eligibility requirements. The ideal income verification begins with a screening by a referral entity of family income prior to hiring or provision of services. The income screening and referrals of income-qualified persons can be conducted by a state, county, or local job employment agency or other entity that agrees to refer individuals who they determine to be members of the targeted income group (TIG) based on the CDBG program's income limits adjusted for family size. Their internal procedures for income screening and referral are acceptable documentation of income eligibility according to HUD provided they incorporate the HUD definition for low-to-moderate family income and HUD income guidelines.
- 3. Income Screening and Verification of Income by Grantee or Business: To begin documenting benefit to the TIG through job creation, the grantee is responsible for screening ALL beneficiaries of the program. The program provides annual income eligibility limits by county published by the Department of Housing and Urban Development
 - a. If you do not use the presumptions, work with a referral agency or the business hires employees without prior job referral agency income screening, a Self-Certification of Family Income for Employment must be completed for each potential employee. The form must include a statement, signed and dated by the applicant, that the information is subject to verification upon request. Self-Certification of income carries the greatest risk because it is the grantee's sole responsibility to insure that third-source, personal backup income documentation is provided for at least 30% of the required minimum of 51% TIG hired. This backup documentation must be provided by the job applicant prior to the business completing its hiring process. Should the grantee be unable to demonstrate acquisition of this representative sample in its files, the grantee risks having its project deemed an ineligible use of CDBG funding based upon inadequate documentation of national objective. The Department will need to request repayment of the grant in full.

Caution: Unlike a Self-Certification of Family Income for Employment form, a Self-Verification of Income form, which is a stand-alone document signed by a potential employee in the rare instance where no backup income documentation actually exists, must be used sparingly and is discouraged unless it can be demonstrated that it is the only option available for income screening and verification. In no instance may self-Verifications be the only source of eligibility documentation for assistance to a business or microenterprise size business.

Job retention projects. For a proposal funded as a job retention project, the business must have provided evidence that it faced imminent closure and that without CDBG assistance, the jobs would have been lost. Acceptable examples of clear and objective evidence include: a notice issued by the business to affected employees; a public announcement by the business (e.g., a press release or letter to the jurisdiction), or financial records provided by the business that clearly demonstrate the need for closing or moving all or portions of the business out of the area or that without financial assistance the business will not be able to sustain itself. If 51 percent of the current workforce is in the TIG and CDBG funds will prevent business failure, the project qualifies as job retention.

An income survey of existing employees must document that CDBG funds are retaining jobs that are principally held (51 percent) by TIG employees. Signed self-certification forms (of which a representative sample will be verified) were completed for each retained employee documenting family income. The income determination for retained employees was made when CDBG funds were being requested and prior to any decision to provide CDBG assistance. After the project is funded, a representative sampling must be verified for family income to demonstrate a 51% benefit to the Targeted Income Group during the upcoming monitoring.

Alternatively, if the current workforce demonstrates less than 51% TIG benefit, the proposal may still be eligible if it can be demonstrated that, based on historical data, the anticipated job turnover during the grant term will result in job opportunities for TIG. The combined retained TIG jobs and those filled by TIG through job turnover over the next 30 months may qualify the project as eligible for CDBG funds.

Microenterprise Assistance Programs. In Microenterprise Assistance programs, 100% of the participants receiving assistance must provide full back-up documentation proving that they are a member of the Targeted Income Group. A "Preliminary Intake" form has been provided for grantees to use to determine probably eligibility. This is only a preliminary indicator tool and does not stand alone. Full back-up documents must still be obtained. Grantees may not use presumptions or Self-Certification forms for Microenterprise programs.

Note: One exception to the above is in the instance of a Microenterprise participant that is not in the Targeted Income Group, but commits to creating jobs and hiring 51% Targeted Income Group. In this case, the Microenterprise would need to comply with the Job Creation rules as discussed previously in this chapter. Otherwise, any non-Targeted Income Group participant must pay for their services.

Infrastructure projects. If you provide assistance in the form of off-site improvements to a facility such as a shopping center, small business incubator, or office building, where space will be leased to more than one individual business, the TIG benefit test (51 percent of all new jobs) will be applied to the development as a whole.

To ensure that the purpose of CDBG funds is understood by the private business entity, you must make TIG job creation a specific covenant of such documents as the Fair Share Allocation Agreement (see the example of a Fair Share Agreement in the "Supporting Materials" section of this chapter), a business loan, Owner Participation Agreement, Development and Disposition Agreement, or lease agreement.

You must require TIG job creation as a condition of assistance to the developer. In turn, a developer must inform lessees of this through the covenants of the lease with remedies or penalties established for failure to satisfy the covenant.

Where CDBG funds are for infrastructure in support of a business, but excess capacity is available to future users, the TIG benefit test and national objective requirements shall also be applied to future users if the projected cost per job in CDBG funds is $10,000 or more. You must determine the service area of the infrastructure improvements and develop and implement a mechanism for identifying businesses that locate or expand within the service area and for tracking job creation and TIG benefit for these businesses for the period from the date that the CDBG assistance is approved to the date one year after the physical completion of the public infrastructure improvements. As such, the reporting requirements for tracking job creation and TIG benefit may extend beyond the grant agreement. In addition, these new businesses or business expansion projects are subject to the public benefit requirements which restrict the amount of CDBG subsidy allowed to a maximum of $35,000 of CDBG funds per job created or retained.

For projects where the projected costs per job for the initially benefiting business(es) is less than $10,000, then the TIG benefit requirement (minimum 51% benefit to TIG) shall be determined from the jobs created or retained by the initially benefiting businesses.

Please note: The Department will not accept the salary level of the job as evidence that a job is held by a TIG employee. Each employee's total family income must be calculated and then compared to the HUD income eligibility levels per county (see Appendix D) to establish TIG eligibility.

F. Loan Documents: All loan agreements should have a non-monetary default clause that says the borrower is in default if job creation or retention obligations are not met. The loan agreement should specifically reference, as a minimum performance requirement, the total and TIG job count described in the approved application.

Please Note: If the business creates more jobs than originally projected in the application and/or specified in the State agreement, then, to meet the national objective of principally benefiting TIG members, at least 51% of all jobs created must benefit members of the TIG. A grant may proceed to closeout as soon as all work has been completed and the job commitment has been met.

An explicit clause regarding the business' responsibility for meeting job creation or retention and TIG benefit performance standards must be made part of any development or lease agreement between the jurisdiction and any business benefiting from a CDBG-assisted project and must include language to ensure that job creation/retention and TIG benefit reporting requirements are incorporated into lease agreements between CDBG-assisted developers and their tenants.

You may indemnify your jurisdiction against poor job performance through corporate guarantees, personal guarantees, etc.

A standard covenant of all CDBG funded loans is that they are due and payable upon sale or refinance or change of majority ownership. CDBG funded loans are not assumable.

H. Confidentiality: The financial gap documentation file should contain all confidential information submitted to substantiate the need for CDBG funding, including the basis for determining that the amount and terms of the CDBG assistance are appropriate, given the documented financial needs of the business and the public benefit that will result from the project. The credit analysis and historical financial information, personal financial information, pro forma financial information with assumptions, and the business and marketing plans should remain confidential. This information should be kept in a locked file and is not typically made available for public review. Any request for this information, or other information related to the use of CDBG funds, should be reviewed with the jurisdiction's legal counsel for conformity with the Public Information Act. (See Chapter 7 for more information on filing systems.)

The Department will review these files during its monitoring visits. You must be able to document that the private leverage commitments of equity and debt have been fulfilled. Additionally, all CDBG expenditures must be documented.

- G. Fair Share Payments. It is the intent of the CDBG program to fund only infrastructure improvements that are necessary for the identified business to go forward. However, infrastructure may be sized for excess capacity so that future users will be able to hook up. Applicants are required to negotiate for fair share contributions from businesses and landowners that will benefit from the CDBG-assisted project. Fair share payments are distinct from ongoing operating fees; they are intended to capitalize a fund for CDBG eligible activities similar to the reuse of loan repayments. A fair share plan must describing the amount of the fair share payment allocable to each benefiting business and property owner and the mechanism that will be used to collect fair share payments from future users. Initial fair share payments contributed by the initially benefiting business(es) will be the result of negotiations between your jurisdiction and the benefiting businesses and property owners.
- E. Monitoring: The Department typically monitors your ED program for job creation/retention performance approximately twenty-four months from the date that your State contract is executed. If the TIG benefit file is kept by the business or the job training agency at another location, you should make sure that a TIG benefit file is maintained at your location, too. Infrastructure grants may be monitored twice, once during construction to review for wage compliance and again as the grant is nearing expiration to review for general compliance and national objective performance.

Workouts of troubled projects that result from technical assistance meetings and monitorings are not intended to set precendent for program operation. Problem grants will be dealt with on a case by case basis.

(See Chapter 7 for recommendations on record keeping and Chapters 2 and 12 for more on the Department's monitoring process.)

- I. Close-out. Upon close-out monitoring, and not prior to the 24th month of the grant agreement, the Department will review your program for compliance with such items as follows (see Chapters 12 and 13 also):
 - 1. Each CDBG-assisted project (e.g., each loan to a business) must meet a national objective. If the national objective being met by a project is to principally benefit the TIG, then 51 percent of the actual jobs created or retained must be filled by TIG persons and 100% of service to persons under a Microenterprise Assistance Program.
 - 2. Private leverage has been documented and expended.
 - 3. CDBG funds have been expended for the purpose described in the application and drawdown requests.
 - 4. You have reported on a timely basis, and have no outstanding monitoring or audit findings.
 - 5. Cost per job created/retained is consistent with the original grant application and, at minimum, meets national objective and Federal public benefit requirements as a Business Assistance Program or Project.
 - 6. Beneficiary tracking and reporting is consistent with the original grant application and, at minimum, meets Federal national objective requirements as a Microenterprise Assistance Program.

If the above criteria are met and you have complied with all CDBG Federal overlay requirements, the grant can be closed out. A grant may proceed to closeout as soon as all work has been completed and the job commitment has been met.

III. COMMON PROBLEMS.

- Failure to inform the CDBG program representative of project complications
- Using salary level of the job rather than verifying family income as evidence of TIG benefit

- Failure to monitor job creation/retention on a periodic basis
- Failure to perform follow-up income screening for job retention projects
- Failure to submit Document Checklist for Drawdown Approval on Enterprise Fund loans prior to disbursal of funds
- Inadequate documentation to support borrower's request for funds on Enterprise Fund loans
- Absence of loan tracking system for grants and program income accounts
- Failure to document total project costs at completion
- Failure to document equity injection
- Inadequate documentation of loan/credit files.
- Failure to conduct ongoing monitoring of subrecipients
- IV. DEPARTMENT'S ROLE. The Department has an ED unit within the overall CDBG Program. ED representatives are responsible for providing technical assistance to ED grantees throughout the life of the grant.

The ED representative will conduct monitoring site visits to review your files, interview the staff and any contractors who have a role in the project, and provide technical assistance on compliance problems. The monitoring visits will cover all Federal overlay requirements, CDBG project costs, private leverage and jobs, and the use and tracking of program income.

During the close-out evaluation, the Department will compare your performance to the factors listed above to determine grant achievement. The Department will consider your overall performance in its evaluation of the percentage of program income that may be retained locally. Since your ability to retain program income is a function of a final evaluation, the Department will allow you to retain any program income realized during the term of the grant which generates the income.

This analysis is conducted whenever CDBG assistance is provided directly to a for-profit business for an economic development project (e.g., a loan to a business or a grant for infrastructure improvements needed to accommodate a business retention or expansion project.) Documentation of TIG Status

This sheet provides information on the Low-to-Moderate (L/M) Income or TIG jobs standard, as defined in Subpart I, Section 24 CFR 570.483(b)(4). A L/M or TIG job activity is one, which creates or retains permanent jobs, at least 51% of which, on a full time equivalent (FTE) basis, are held (filled) by TIG or L/M income persons. When assistance is provided to a business for the purpose of creating or retaining jobs, the grantee must have on file a written agreement with the business in which that business agrees to keep or create a specific number of jobs and identifies each such job by type and whether the job will be full or part time.

BENEFICIARY AND EMPLOYMENT PLAN AGREEMENT MODELS

The following Beneficiary and Employment Plan Agreement is only a suggested format for jurisdictions intending to contract for placement and/or training services. However, the requirements contained within the agreement should be included in any contract for these services.

The State CDBG Program requires jurisdictions to use the HUD definition of family income eligibility where there is an executed contract with a Workforce Investment Act funded screening and referral agency. It is important to note that most screening and referral agencies do not require 100 percent verification of the income eligibility of applicants who are placed and it will therefore be necessary to contract for these additional required services prior to implementation of the program.

For Beneficiary Projects The CDBG Program requires all beneficiaries of a microenterprise assistance program to be income screened and Targeted Income Group verified.

For Job Retention Projects. The CDBG Program requires a self-certification of income of all employees prior to the jurisdiction approving the CDBG assistance (loan or grant). Subsequent to the CDBG assistance, the jurisdiction must income screen a representative sample of the retained employees to determine the accuracy of the self-certifications. The number of employees sampled should be in relation to the number of total employees retained. The jurisdiction must also income verify employees hired through expansion or attrition.

For Job Creation Projects. The CDBG Program requires all targeted income group employees to be income screened to verify family income eligibility.

To ensure adequate income documentation, it is advisable to obtain income documentation for all beneficiaries/employees screened by the WIA-funded screening and referral agency. As such, CDBG administrative costs may be budgeted to include funds for income verification services.

The definition of Targeted Income Group eligibility is determined by using Department of Housing and Urban Development Income Eligibility limits per county and family size for the current year and applying them to the self-certifications submitted by the job applicants. Income verification must have been completed before the job applicant is hired for the position if the employee is being hired to meet the TIG national objective requirement under this grant.

The Department defines family income as all sources of income for one or more persons living in a single residence who are related by blood or marriage. (See Appendix D for guidelines on income inclusions and exclusions)

("City") and	and	(collectively, "Collectively,"	Owner").
		RECITALS

- A. City is the recipient of Community Development Block Grant No. XX-EDBG-XXX (the "Grant") which includes a grant of $90,000 to cover the design and construction costs of public, off-site frontage improvements along a portion of Highway YY required by California Department of Transportation ("CalTrans") and the City prior to permitting development of three parcels of adjacent property. The work will include creation of deceleration and acceleration lanes through grading, installation of curbs and gutters, and pavement widening, as required by CalTrans, and installation of City public improvements including, storm drains, handicap ramps, bicycle lanes, street lights and miscellaneous other public improvements (the "Public Improvements"). The Public Improvements are expected to be completed by February 200X.
- B. Owner is the owner of one of three parcels of property which will benefit from the Public Improvements to be funded by the Grant and which would be unable to obtain entitlements to develop without such Public Improvements. Owner's parcel consists of approximately 5.18 acres and is identified as Bliss County Assessor's Parcel No. XX-YYY-00Z (the "Property").
- C. The terms and conditions of the Grant require that City and Owner enter into an agreement fixing the fair share allocation of the Grant to be paid by Owner and conforming to State community development block grant requirements for job creation for persons with family income less than or equivalent to eighty percent (80%) of the median income for Bliss County (the 'Targeted Income Group") as shown in Title 25, California Code of Regulations section 6932.
- D. In recognition of the benefits Owner's property will receive from the Public Improvements to be funded by the Grant and as required by the terms and conditions of the Grant, the parties hereto wish to fix and determine the job creation and reporting requirements of Owner and the fair share allocation of the Grant to be allocated to the Owner and to be reimbursed by Owner to City in accord with the terms of this Agreement.

AGREEMENT

- 1. Fair Share Allocation. In consideration of the benefits Owner's property will receive from the Public Improvements to be funded by the Grant, including enhancement of development potential and improved access and egress to and from the Property, Owner agrees that the share of the Grant properly allocated to Owner based on the percentage of acreage owned by Owner in relation to the total amount of acreage in the three parcels benefiting from the Public Improvements is the sum of Fifty-One Thousand One Hundred Twenty Dollars ($51,120.00) (hereinafter, "Owner's Fair Share Allocation").
- 2. Payment. The Owner shall pay Owner's Fair Share Allocation to City in five installments over a five-year period. The first installment shall be due and payable on a date one year from the date of issuance of a building permit authorizing construction to commence on the property and shall be in an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of Owner's Fair Share Allocation. Thereafter, the balance of the fair share allocation shall be paid in four installments each due and payable on the anniversary date of the issuance of the building permit and in an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of Owner's Fair Share Allocation, plus interest on the total outstanding balance of Owner's Fair Share Allocation, which shall accrue at a rate of five percent (5%) per annum. Interest shall begin to accrue on the balance of Owner's Fair Share Allocation on the date that the first installment is due and payable.
- 3. Performance Security. Prior to issuance of a building permit, Owner shall furnish one of the following as security for performance of Owner's obligations under this Agreement:
- a. A surety bond in the amount of Fifty One Thousand One Hundred Twenty Dollars ($51,120.00) which is equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the Owner's Fair Share Allocation, as security for the faithful performance of all the provisions of this Agreement. This bond shall remain in effect until such time as the last installment of the Owner's Fair Share Allocation is paid to City.

LOAN FILES

Two separate loan files must be maintained. There should be an original documents file, a legal file, which holds all of the original loan documentation, and a credit file which has the day-to-day administrative records of the loan. The legal file should be secured in a fireproof safe. Chapter 7 of this Grants Management Manual has the Checklists for documents to be kept in these files along with all files to be kept for Recordkeeping. The Checklists have been reproduced here for ease in establishing these files:

LOAN FILE DOCUMENTS (DESCRIPTION)

1. Note

The note is usually a one-page document, the instrument which obligates the borrower to the debt. It details the amount of the loan, the rate of interest and the repayment terms as well as the remedies of the lender with respect to the collateral and guarantees securing the loan in the event of default.

2. Loan Agreement

The loan agreement is created to supplement the note. It details the specific conditions of the lending such as the disbursements, payment obligations, covenants outlining financial disclosure requirements, a description of the collateral and guarantees securing the loan, other special conditions of the loan, such as any regulatory obligations "e.g., meeting Davis-Bacon Wage Guidelines", and also describes the remedies you, as the lender, have with respect to defaults in payments and violations of any of the loan covenants.

3. Deed of Trust

If a loan is secured by real property, a Deed of Trust mortgage instrument detailing the specifics of the property must be prepared and recorded in the county in which the property is located. This prevents the resale of the property without your notification. If the Deed of Trust is not properly prepared and recorded your lien may become invalid, thereby losing the collateral which secures your loan.

4. General Security Agreement and UCC Filings

A General Security Agreement and UCC filing is made on all other collateral securing the loan in order to protect the lender against the collateral by another party. The General Security Agreement obligates the borrower to the lender. The UCC filing provides notice to all creditors that the borrower has an obligation to you secured by collateral on which you have first claim. You must complete the UCC filing in your locality, county and state simultaneously in order for the filing to be effective.

5. Personal Guarantees

The endorser of a personal guarantee becomes personally liable for the obligation. Remember that often the legal borrower is usually a corporation, not the principals of the company, and unless you obtain a personal guarantee you have no recourse against the principals.

6. Corporate Guarantees

Corporate guarantees are obtained when you require the endorsement of another corporation as a condition of the loan. Guarantees should be accompanied by Certificate of Secretary (see No. 11) from the corporate guarantor.

7. Subordination Agreement

The Subordination Agreement is required when, as a condition of your loan, you demand that the repayment of a previously existing debt be subordinate to the payment of your loan. If you do not want any payment, principal and interest, to be paid on this loan, you must specify it in the agreement otherwise you might find a deferral of principal but not of interest payment.

8. Life Insurance Policy and Assignment

If you require a life insurance policy on any of the principals of the company as collateral on your loan, it must be accompanied by an assignment. An assignment is an agreement between you and the borrower which specifies the type of life insurance coverage required to secure the loan and names you as beneficiary. The assignment form is usually provided by the insurance company issuing the policy and who must record the assignment. Once a policy is assigned the insurance company will send you notices of lapses in premium payments.

9. Hazard Insurance Policy and Assignment

The same procedure for life insurance policy is followed on all fire, theft and flood insurance policies which covers the collateral securing your loan.

10. General Resolution

A general Resolution describes who is empowered to borrow on behalf of the corporation.

11. Certificate of Secretary

A Certificate of Secretary affirms that the corporation has agreed to the loan.

12. Opinion of Counsel

The Opinion of Counsel verifies that the company is a legal entity empowered to borrow, and that there are no legal actions or suits pending against the company.

13. Intercreditor Agreement

An Intercreditor Agreement is obtained when there are two or more lenders with claims against the same collateral as in the case of a senior and second mortgage lender. This agreement details the obligations of the two to each other with respect to attempts to liquidate the asset securing the loan without the other's consent.

In any loan closing you should have your own legal counsel representing your interest as lender and being well versed in the legal lending requirements in your state. Once the loan is closed it is your responsibility to protect the original closing documents from any destruction or mutilation which could jeopardize your ability to liquidate your collateral or move against a guarantee should it become necessary. It is improper to store the original documents in the credit file which is used in the everyday administration of the loan.

The credit file should be organized in a chronological manner with separate tabs for financial reports and correspondence, credit checks, personal financial reports and other recordkeeping functions.

14. Credit Memorandum

Description and analysis of proposed project that incorporates the CDBG program's underwriting guidelines (see earlier in this Section VI).

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEM (MIS)

Good credit administration demands that you develop a good reporting system that gives you information on the payment status of your loans and monitors the quality of your portfolio.

A good reporting system can help you set achievable goals for the growth of your portfolio, the quality of your loans, and it can help you improve the collection of your delinquencies and help you manage workloads. The reporting system becomes an effective management tool if, at a minimum, it provides you with the information provided in the sample reports which follow. These reports should be produced on a periodic basis, reviewed and compared to the previous month's activity. They provide a basic format and should be modified to suit your loan program's particular needs.

• Tickler File
